

Some projects cannot be delegated. Whether the task requires discretion or your team is already stretched too thin, I'm here to help.

Your Partner in Tackling What Can't Be Delegated

The Resource You Didn't Know You Needed

Drawing on my varied experience, I excel at managing a wide range of projects—whether it's conducting stakeholder surveys for national advocacy groups, uncovering millions in operational savings for healthcare organizations, stepping in as an interim executive, or developing strategic plans for Fortune 50 companies. My strength lies in being able to quickly assess, adapt, and lead, whatever challenges come my way, ensuring your organization stays on course and achieves its goals.

My solutions-oriented approach ensures you have the support to focus on the bigger picture while I manage the critical details. Problems and opportunities are two sides of the same coin. Let's identify the challenges you face and turn them into powerful opportunities.

Recent Projects

- Crafted, executed, and evaluated employee engagement surveys
- Revised the five-year strategic plan for a patient advocacy organization
- Acted as an interim executive for a health insurance association
- Created a business plan for a wellness program centered around a resort
- Chose procurement software for a dental practice with 22 locations
- Sourced executives and staff for a non-profit healthcare organization
